Team goals:

Within the first month of the program we will be identifying the core group of 6-8 women that have the potential to begin race training. Once those women are chosen and committed we will begin training on a variety of boats and really tuning into boat handling skills. Once we have developed exceptional boat handling skills we will begin introductions to racing strategy, tactics, and different course set-ups. Then, as soon as the sailors are up to speed and comfortable with their racing skills we will be participating in inner club races, and eventually traveling to compete both individually and as a team!!
